Synopsis: Information pertaining to two hacker conferences in 2002. Writer forwarded material to Analysis and Warning Section, NIPC, FBIHQ.

Details: The following is information obtained by the Writer pertaining to two (2) hacker conferences:

1) SUMMERCON 2002 will take place at the Renaissance Hotel, Washington, DC during May 31, June 1 and 2, 2002. The conference is promoted as the oldest hacker conference currently in existence. The conference has an Internet site dedicated to the event, <http://www.summercon.org>.

2) DEF CON 10 will be held at the Alexis Park Hotel and Resort, Las Vegas, NV during August 2 through August 4, 2002. The conference is promoted as the largest hacker convention of its kind. The conference has an Internet site dedicated to the event, <http://www.defcon.org>.

For information, these conferences serve as a meeting place for hackers, phone phreakers and related individuals involved with the computer culture. Conferences of this nature also sponsor speaking events pertaining to new advances in technology.

On instant date, Writer informed IOS [REDACTED] Analysis and Information Sharing Unit, Analysis and Warning Section, NIPC, FBIHQ of these events. IOS [REDACTED] is in the [REDACTED]
