At a meeting in my office a few days ago you informed me of the FBI's desire to [Redacted]
[Redacted] in Operation Frostbyte -- the undercover on-line investigation now underway in this district. You requested my comments on two proposals.

b5
b7D

United States Attorney

CHIEF DIVISION COUNSEL ANALYSIS

On March 24, 2000, Omaha Chief Division Counsel, [REDACTED] reviewed this Group I Undercover Proposal in its entirety. The scenario as described raises the following legal issues:

b5
b6
b7C

Investigative Basis:

Based on the information contained in this proposal, it is clear that there is predication for this Undercover Operation (UCO). [REDACTED]

b5
b7D
b7E

Cooperating Witness (CW):

[REDACTED]

b5
b6

b7D

Due Process and Entrapment:

[REDACTED]

b5
b7D
b7E

The 8th Circuit Court of Appeals held in U.S. v. Randolph, (1984) that in order to establish entrapment, the evidence must clearly indicate that the government agent originated the criminal design, that the agent implanted in the mind of an innocent person the disposition to commit the crime, and that the subject committed the crime at the urging of the government agent.

Attorney General Exemptions:

Attorney General Exemptions have been requested for the deposit of funds, leasing of space and the utilization of proceeds.

Conclusion:

Upon consideration of this UCO proposal in its entirety, there are no apparent legal issues that cannot be reasonably addressed.
